THE

Learning Curve

MEDIA KIT · 2027

ADVERTISING AND SPONSORSHIP

Reach the people who design, run and buy online learning.

An independent media and intelligence platform exploring the technologies, ideas, research and innovations transforming how the world learns. Sponsors buy visibility, clearly labelled. Never a verdict.

WHO WE ARE

An independent media and intelligence platform shaping how the world learns

We explore the technologies, ideas, research and innovations transforming how the world learns, and connect the people shaping learning with the insights, evidence and tools to make better decisions.

WHAT WE PUBLISH EACH MONTH

More than half of what we publish is for decision-makers

Decision-makers

Library ~20 · Trends ~13

~33 a month · 54%

Our focus. The research and news that leaders and buyers rely on, beside the directory and reports where they compare products.

Reach

Guides ~28

~28 a month · 46%

The engine. Practical guides bring new readers in from search every day and lead them into the intelligence layer.

At our current pace of two articles a day, using the mix published since launch (30 October to 14 November 2026). The directory (51 technologies) and intelligence reports are counted separately. Reviews join as platform testing completes.

WHO READS THE LEARNING CURVE

Our readers are people who design, run and buy learning

From the designer building tomorrow's course to the team signing off on a new platform, our readers make the decisions sponsors want to be part of.

REACH

Practitioners and creators

Practical guides that answer what people search for, two a day.

REACH

Growing every day, built on search and trust

Most readers arrive searching for a specific problem, such as how long a course video should be or which LMS fits their organisation. Sponsors meet them at the moment they are deciding.

14

new articles every week, researched and cited, published at noon and midnight Sydney time

51

learning technologies profiled in the directory and growing weekly, every fact sourced and dated

3×

daily readers more than tripled from the first to the second week of November 2026

of readers are in Australia, with a growing share in the US, Singapore, India and Europe

WHAT READERS COME FOR

Choosing technology. Our report on AI tools for learning design is the most-read page on the site.

Getting the design right. Library pages on cognitive load, dual coding and motivation, and guides like the ADDIE model.

Building a career. Guides for teachers moving into instructional design.

WHAT YOU CAN BOOK

Seven formats, every one clearly labelled

FORMAT	SIZE	WHERE IT APPEARS
Billboard	970 × 250	End of every article; between rows on the home page
Medium rectangle	300 × 250	Inside articles on phones and tablets; home page side rail
Half page	300 × 600	Sticky rail beside articles on wide screens
Sponsored card	1200 × 800 image	Home page grid, marked "Sponsored" with your name
Newsletter sponsor	Logo and 60 words	One sponsor per monthly issue
Sponsored research	Report	Intelligence, labelled sponsored on every page
Enhanced profile	Media and a contact form	Your own directory profile

WHERE IT SITS ON AN ARTICLE PAGE

1 Medium rectangle inside the article, after the opening section, on phones and tablets

2 Half page in a rail that stays in view as readers scroll on wide screens

3 Billboard at the end of the article, and between rows on the home page

Never before the short answer, inside a research card or chart, as a pop-up, or on reviews and comparisons. At most two ads per article.

OUR PROMISE

Sponsors buy visibility. Never a verdict.

Our readers choose courses, platforms and technology on the strength of what we publish. That only works if our judgements aren't for sale. It's also why a placement here is worth more: it sits beside work people believe.

Money can buy

- Clearly labelled ad space
- Newsletter sponsorship
- Labelled sponsored research
- An enhanced directory profile

Money can never buy

- A score, ranking or recommendation
- A place in the directory, or an evidence level
- An article, a preview of one, or a say in it
- Ads on reviews or comparisons

WHO WE ACCEPT

We choose our advertisers, and we'd rather run a promotion of our own than a placement we can't stand behind. We don't accept:

- A vendor while we're reviewing it (eligible again 30 days after the review publishes)
- Claims we can't verify, essay mills or cheating services, "get rich" schemes and data brokers
- Political ads, crypto and high-risk finance, unverifiable health claims, gambling, adult content, weapons, tobacco and vaping

FOUNDING PARTNERS · FIRST 20 ONLY

An enhanced directory profile, with ads that send readers to it

Founding partners get an enhanced profile in the directory, plus display placements across the site that link straight to that profile, for $3,750 a year, 25% off the Partner rate, held for 24 months.

Profiles stay editorial: the facts, sources and evidence levels on them are ours, and paying never changes them.

HOW TO BOOK

Three steps, and you're live

Email us with the format, dates and what you want readers to do.

We confirm availability and the rate, and check the ad meets our policy.

Send artwork and your tracking link. It goes live at the next publishing slot.
